

More Compute Power Than

The STAP-Boy Program has demonstrated that a modern graphics processing IC ("gaming chip") can provide the computational power of many high-performance microprocessors, with savings in cost, weight, size, electrical power.